

4 Courses

Generative AI: Forecasting Disruption

Generative AI: Shaping
Work and Tasks

Generative AI Integration: Effects on Labor and Workforce

Generative AI in the Workplace: Policies, Ethics, and Risks

Dec 4, 2024

James Bex

has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

Navigating Disruption: Generative AI in the Workplace

Generative AI is poised to become one of the most disruptive technologies of our generation. In this course series, you will better understand how generative AI works, what we can learn from disruptive technologies of the past, and the role AI may play in workplaces in the future. In “Navigating Disruption: Generative AI in the Workplace”, you’ll explore how artificial intelligence is set to influence various industries and jobs, and how you can ensure generative AI tools are used responsibly in your workplace.

Professor Communication &
Media and Political Science

The online specialization named in this certificate may draw on material from courses taught on-campus, but the included courses are not equivalent to on-campus courses. Participation in this online specialization does not constitute enrollment at this university. This certificate does not confer a University grade, course credit or degree, and it does not verify the identity of the learner.

Verify this certificate at:

<https://coursera.org/verify/specialization/QNJFWJJDXTF6>